WAREHOUSE OUTTID—Three women were burned to death in a fire that gutted this two-story warehouse on York street in Ottawa's downtown market area recently. Damage was estimated at more than $200,000.

HARE-RAISING EXPERIENCE—"Kirre," the rabbit, is no dumb bunny. Clover, grass and garden vegetables aren't for him. At left, he begs for milk from owner Janine Soderqvist, of Stockholm, Sweden, and at right Kirre reaches for an apple—his favorite fruit. Soderqvist described his pet after Kirre's mother was killed during the bombing session.

KNIGHTHOOD BLOOMS AGAIN—Although it's been a long time since chivalry was in flower, 80 youngsters who attend the West Side YMCA in New York City intend to see that it blooms again. Promising to "defend the hapless, protect all women, and be merciful to men," one company of the Junior Knights of the Round Table, above, raise their swords in salute during a meeting.

EVERY CHILD WILL WANT ONE—Just the thing for pre-Christmas and birthday inspections by small fry is a X-ray examining unit, used by the Port of New York Authority. Sealed cartons to be inspected are loaded into the machine and an operator, at left, views on X-ray image projected on screen to check for contraband or undesirable articles.

CHIEF PETTY OFFICER ARTHUR BOWDEN of Montreal, a tiny marmoset on his shoulder, arrives in Halifax, N.S., aboard the cruiser HMCS Quebec. The tiny monkey, purchased in Madeira, is the companion of an expedition for Bowden doing duty in 2000. Above he shows his pet to Lt. J. G. MacLeod, one of the six sea cadets who made the cruise aboard the ship.

SNACKTIME—This modest (*) display of chicken, lamb, rice, and assorted side dishes recently was served in the home of the Emir of Beirut, in Ankara. The sumptuous table of delicacies was set in honor of visiting South Arabian seamen, who journeyed to Hoft with Prime Minister Shukh Abdulla Shaban, and the meal was considered in no way extravagant by generous standards.

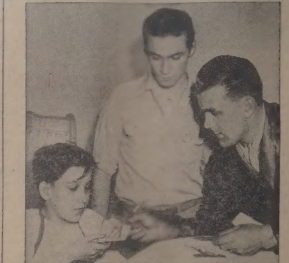

COLDSTREAM GUARDSMAN OUT COLD—Looking like a toy soldier, a Coldstream Guardsman lies on the road after falling while on duty lining the route to House Guards Parade during a rehearsal for the Trooping of the color ceremony. A policeman goes to his aid.

PRESIDENT GRIEDER—Gay senoritas from Madrid greeted Prime Thompson, president of Britain's Fair of Trade, when he visited the Spanish booth at the Canadian International Trade Fair. The two senoritas are Rosa and Clara Alonso, sisters. Mr. Thompson's official opening of the fair in Toronto at which Canada and more than 20 other countries are represented.

PREMIER T. C. DOUGLAS officiated recently at the opening of the expanded Imperial Oil refinery in Regina. The expansion program, costing in excess of $7 million, includes a fluid catalytic cracking unit. He is shown here addressing 400 guests at the ceremony, attended by prominent governmental and business leaders of the province. Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Patterson is shown to the right of the premier.

IN FOR REPAIRS—Rochester Richard of Los Angeles Canadians, is seen in a Montreal hospital, where he recently underwent an operation for removal of a tumor on his knee. Here giving an autographed picture of his self to Frank Beauchamp, 12, of Quebec City, at Quebec's Leveque, 14, of Rue Saint-Jacques, Quebec, looks on.

WINNER GETS ONLY THE CUP—Pete's beauty Bobbie Lou Givens, left, and Rupta Givens display the 177-year-old Sir Thomas Lipton Memorial Trophy, which will be awarded to the winner of the Whitby Yacht Club's Regatta, Oct. 25-31. Gentlemen sailers from all parts of the United States will race for the perpetual star-cup trophy at Whitby, Nova Scotia.

BANANA BEND—But not by choice. Although to almost all kinds of fruits he is unimpressed with the including milk, Bradley Savage, Jr., of Chicago, Ill., lives on a banana diet. He once ate an average of six a day.

REMEMBER—IT THERE'S STAY—In your hair, and the kids call you "Grandpa," you do. It's Pola Negri, "star" of the silent movies, and as glamorous as ever to the young in years of yesterday. She recently arrived in New York from Hollywood on a rare business trip.

BEAVER AREA—The village of Ascut, 140 miles southeast of Edmonton, was named from the Cree Indian word for beaver.
